Sorority Rush Sign Up Will Be Held Feb. 11

All women interested in rushing must remember registration for rushing will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11 from 8 to 12 a.m. in the office of the Dean of Women, Charlotte Bleisch president of Panhellenic Council announced.

All women who have not registered during this time will not be rushed. In order to be eligible a freshman must have an accumulative point average of 1.5, sophomores 1.6, juniors 1.7 and seniors 1.8. The registration list will be checked by the registrar for grade eligibility. No one taking less than twelve hours work will be considered.

Rushes must also be members in good standing with AWS and must have completed at least one semester of classes on this campus. Because the sorority system is a selective one, a freshman, transfer student, or upperclass woman must meet all qualifications.

A rushee should be aware that signing up for rushing means adherence to the following rules: you must attend all meetings called by the Dean of Women; don't sign up for rushing unless you are interested in joining a sorority; moreover, do not accept invitations from any group in which you are not willing to consider membership; promptness in accepting or declining invitations is essential and all replies should be brought directly to the Dean of Women's Office; do not go to the parties with a member of the sorority, alumnae, or male escort.

A period of restricted contact will begin on February 11, and will end March 8, when bids are delivered. During this period there will be no communication of any kind between rushees and sorority women, except business and a casual "Hi" in passing.

'Playboy Of The Western World' Is Sluggish, Uninteresting, Unappealing

By JEFFREY OSOFF

Despite the fact that three of the outstanding performers of the University Theatre assumed major roles, "The Playboy of the Western World," the third major production of the current theatre season, was one of the most sluggish, uninteresting, and unappealing productions to be presented at the University during the past three years.

The play, an Irish comedy by John Millington, failed miserably and the unresponsive audience moved progressively from confusion to boredom.

Set in a public house near a village on the wild coast of Mayo, in Western Ireland, the play, although extremely authentic as far as setting and characterization were concerned, never had a chance for success as the audience was unable to decipher the Irish dialect employed by the actors. This, coupled with the fact that the play is a "period" production, which no doubt was meaningful 40 years ago, fused to create uninteresting and misunderstanding rather than comedy.

The play did, however, live up to billing as one that brought forth salty satire and ironic compassion to mirror the frailties of the human spirit.

Despite the shortcomings of the play itself, excellent performances by Rex McGraw, Virginia Johnson, and Cynthia Dicken kept the production from turning into a complete fiasco.

McGraw, portraying Christopher Mahon, a weak and worthless individual who becomes a hero among those who hear that he has had the daring to kill his own father, turned in a superb performance despite the fact that he played to an unresponsive audience. He showed keen interpretation for the difficult role and even managed to arouse enthusiasm on several occasions.

Virginia Johnson portraying the Widow Quin, and Pegeen Flaherty, portrayed by Cynthia Dicken, both of whose admiration for Christy transforms this shy and dreamy lad into an overbearing extrovert and, finally, into the typical "Playboy of the Western World," both turned in fine performances and maintained the high level of acting which they have shown so well during past major productions.

Ohio's Gov. O'Neill Has Heart Attack

(INS)—Gov. O'Neill's office reported today that his illness has been "definitely diagnosed by his physicians as a mild heart attack."

His physicians, however, reported that his condition since he suffered the attack Wednesday night has been "very satisfactory."

He probably will be kept to his bed for the next three weeks.

O'Neill suffered the attack when returning from Dayton Wednesday night, and Thursday it was announced he was cancelling all of his appointments for the remainder of the week because of a slight cold.

O'Neill is now at the Governor's mansion in Suburban Bexley. A hospital bed has been moved into the private apartment there which is occupied by the Governor and his family.

His physicians—Dr. George I. Nelson and Dr. Robert C. Kirk—said O'Neill is getting all the treatment at home he could receive in a hospital and "is happier there," they added.

In the interest of his safety he has been kept in bed and is receiving tests which will continue until he is well.

"The tests will determine whether or not he has had any heart muscle damage."

"His course to date has been very satisfactory."

O'Neill spent a restful night and his temperature was reported "almost normal" with his pulse regular and at a normal rate and his blood pressure normal.

The announcement was made in the office of his press secretary Hal Conefrey and with his other top aides and a stenographer present.

Editorially Speaking

Time For A Change?

Although the recent United Campus Appeal drive collected over $1,650, 400 more than last year's drive, the total this year was still pitifully short of the established $2,500 goal set by the Student Charities Board.

Yet, the failure to reach the goal itself is not the prime reason for concern. Rather, the fact that some of the largest housing units on campus failed to collect any money at all while others made contributions that seemingly came from several individuals rather than units containing hundreds of students are points that should warrant considerable attention.

We find it difficult to believe that every student on this campus couldn't spare twenty-five cents or so to contribute to charity. True, charity is a thing that cannot be forced or should not be, but, it seems quite incongruous that students do not have enough civic pride or sense of responsibility to make a small contribution so that others less fortunate can also share in the joys of life, health and happiness.

Yet, the problem still goes deeper. The Charities Board was established upon disavowal of the Student Senate along with two other boards. The prime purpose of establishing the board was to eliminate the multitude of single drives on the campus and thus establish one main drive so that students would only have to make one contribution.

This plan met with wide student approval and the task of donating many times to charities was eliminated.

During the first year of the newly created board's existence, student support ran high. However, as time went on support diminished and at the present time many students are failing to take even a passing interest in the charity drive.

If the student body is dissatisfied with the present system of collecting money for charities, now is the time to express this dissatisfaction so that new plans and policies can be adopted for next year's drive. Failure to contribute at all certainly does not or will not alter the situation.

Russia Is Blocked By Baghdad Pact

By PIERRE J. HUSS

INS — The Soviet Union's desperate diplomatic maneuvers to wreck NATO and the Baghdad Pact front have demonstrated that these powerful alliances against aggression by force are like steel handcuffs to Moscow's ambitions for world conquest.

The meeting of the Baghdad pact ministerial council in Ankara, Turkey, now in session, will prove that point once more and undoubtedly the three-day session will draw more fire from Communist Bloc guns than any of the other allied defense talks have sustained.

NATO as it stands makes it a bad risk for Russia to invade free Europe. The Baghdad pact seals off to Russian armed forces the middle East and Asia.

President Eisenhower's recent personal appearance at the NATO conference in Paris was intended to signal the warning to the Kremlin that squeaks and squawks to the contrary, the alliance stands ready and able to fight fire with fire. The personal attendance of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the Ankara meeting in effect conveys the same signal to Moscow from that direction.

The United States at this moment is not yet a full member of the Baghdad pact, formed by Turkey and Iraq in 1955 as a self-defense front against Soviet threats. Britain, Pakistan, and Iran joined later. The U.S. subsequently joined the pact's economic and anti-subversion committee and in 1957 became a member of the Key Military Committee.

Thus the U.S. goes to Ankara as a member in all but name and Dulles conceivably could make that official at this time.

It is appropriate that the Baghdad powers should meet in the Turkish capital, the land most exposed to Soviet attack. Neither should the fact be overlooked that in past years, through crisis after crisis, Turkey has shown unflinching courage in defying Moscow's Saber rattling. On the other hand, the Turkish government did the free world another service by using restraint in the face of border provocations by Syria, the Kremlin's latest puppet.

Prime Minister Menderes said of the Baghdad pact:

Auditions For Solo Must Be Scheduled

February 14 has been set as the deadline to schedule an audition for soloist in the concert to be given by the University Symphony Orchestra May 18.

The rules for the audition are: (1) the composition to be played or sung should be 10 to 15 minutes in length; (2) instrumentalists must prepare a movement of a concerto or a concert-piece requiring orchestral accompaniment; (3) vocalists should prepare a concert or operatic aria requiring orchestral accompaniment; (4) music may be used at the audition but evidence of considerable preparation must be shown at the time; and (5) applicants are expected to bring their own accompanists.

Those students who have already signed for an audition are: Phyllis Smith, Kathy Garber, Norman Nunamaker, Elden Ehrman, Bruce Brown, Don Weng, and Jeanne Hammond.

"It appears that this pact is the only organization which could serve as a support for measures to be adopted on the Middle East (Against Soviet encroachment). The failure to reinforce and strengthen this pact is one of the important causes of the western losses in the Middle East.

"Reinforcement of the Baghdad pact by the adherence of new member countries is greatly to be desired. Turkey also desires to see the extending of political, diplomatic and material aid to the Baghdad pact—and establishment of some form of relationship between the Baghdad pact and NATO.

"The banding together of the Baghdad pact countries to form a resistance front involves truly great sacrifices on their part when confronted with the pressures and subversive activities directed against them by Soviet Russia.

"On the one hand we have the Soviet threats and efforts to disrupt their internal structure; on the other hand is the appearance of benevolent and unconditional aid for those who submit to Russian designs. This situation creates great difficulties and problems for those countries of the Middle East who are determined to resist such efforts.

"Therefore, it is imperative to extend aid to the Baghdad pact, and also to the other states in the area determined to defend themselves."

Benstock, in his dual role as conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra and assistant conductor of the Toledo Symphony Orchestra, has selected the following University Orchestra members to perform with the Toledo Symphony in two presentations of Verdi's "Requiem," Sunday, Feb. 23 in Toledo, and Monday, Feb. 24 in Bowling Green.

Eugene Trombla was a violator of Section Four of the University regulations which refers to any violation of the State of Ohio or the City of Bowling Green as being a violation of the University. He must attend three consecutive court sessions.

Found guilty of first offenses were Lynn Emter and James Merrifield. Both were fined $1 each.

Falcons Down Detroit; Lose To W. Kentucky

Darrow Hits 33 Technical Proves In Third Defeat Costly To Titans

Taking full advantage of its superior size and rebounding ability, Western Kentucky handed Bowling Green its third loss of the season, 83-65, in a game played at Bowling Green, Ky. Saturday night.

Only superhuman efforts by Bowling Green's sophomore sensation Jim Darrow saved the Falcons from complete disaster. Darrow scored 20 of BG's 26 points in the first half and wound up the evening as high point man for both clubs with 33 points. Jim hit for 14 field goals and five free throws.

The Hilltoppers dominated the backboards throughout the game, thanks mainly to 6-9 Ralph Crosthwaite who also scored 29 points to go with his numerous rebounds. Western had three other players in double figures. Billy Case picked up 16 points Owen Lawson and Eric Back, the former Middletown, Ohio stars, had 13 and 10 points.

Western used their height, speed and alertness to take advantage of every Falcon mistake and spurred to a quick 9-0 lead before Dick Abele scored for the Falcons with better than four minutes gone.

Once the ice was broken Bowling Green settled down. Four baskets by Darrow and one by Jim McDonald cut the Western lead to only three points at 14-11.

This was as close as the Falcons could get and the Hilltoppers, behind some tremendous shooting by Crosthwaite, quickly spurred to a 39-15 lead with less than five minutes to go in the first half.

At this point Darrow took over for BG and poured in 11 straight points on five field goals and a free throw, but the Hilltoppers still remained in complete control of the game and left the floor at half-time leading 51-26.

The Falcons in the second half were like the man on the treadmill, running like mad but not getting anywhere. Although they did outscore Western 39-32, the first half lead was just too much to overcome.

For the second game in a row the Falcons were sluggish and played poor basketball, making many mistakes they seldom should make. The Miami game seems to have taken some of the zip out of the boys who are now playing like a very tired team.

Frank Wade, who was outstanding against the Redskins, has scored but 10 points and has made but one field goal in the last two games, while Buddy McCampbell, who did not score against the Hilltoppers, has scored only nine points in two games.

Jim McDonald has scored fairly well, but has made more mistakes than he has made all year. The only Falcon who appears unaffected is Jim Darrow, who has carried the load for the last two games with 63 points and a two-game average of 31.5.

Following the Kent State game the Falcons will get a much deserved, and needed, ten day rest before moving into the final stages of the season.

Keglers Show Form; Harps In First Place

In Newman Club Bowling League competition, the Harp's took over undisputed possession of first place, with 22 points, Jan. 18. The Archangels are now second; the Spooks, third; the Newman Club Crusaders, fourth; and Tislers Whistlers, fifth.

Rounding out the second division of the ten team league are the Terrible Trio Plus Two in sixth position, Leos Lions in seventh place, Eds Bmbers in eighth place, the Stomers in ninth, and the Leftovers, "left over" in tenth position.

High individual among the women was Deanna Pitts who rolled a 172 game, while Jim Harrison leads the men in scoring with 232.

IM Cagers Offer Frosh Team Good Competition

The freshman basketball team won a hard fought victory Jan. 22 from a top intramural team, the Studs, in a scrimmage game, 65-60.

The scrimmage was played under regular game conditions. The intramural team is undefeated in intramural play.

The Studs couldn't keep up with the fast freshman team, but they led several times throughout the contest and provided a tough game for the little Falcons.

Referee Tony Sacco, reserve guard Ron Troy, of the Detroit Titans, and Falcon star, Jim Darrow, combined Thursday evening, to give the Falcons a 73-72 victory over the visiting Titans.

The victory, whose ending could be classed along with some of those from Hans Christian Anderson's best books, featured Darrow in the lead role of the fairy godmother. The little sharpshooter stepped to the foul line with one second remaining in the game and the score tied 72-72, and sank the winning charity toss as easily as if he were pulling on his sweat-socks.

The partisan crowd of 2,500 broke loose as the ball drifted through the hoop. The ensuing roar could be heard back in the Motor City.

Besides sinking the winning foul shot, Darrow found the mark for 30 points, hitting nine field goals, and connecting for 12 of 14 foul shots.

The Titan rebound artist, Don Haase, led the rebound department with 18. The 6'6" senior gathered nine in each half, and was matched in the first half by Falcon forward, Frank Wade.

The Titans led at only one time during the bitterly fought contest. With only a couple minutes gone in the first half, they forged ahead by one point when John Belohlavek sank a foul shot to put the score at 3-2.

At one time in the first half the Falcons had stretched their lead to 10 points. This luxury was short lived however, as the Titans closed the gap to two points when the home team hit a cold streak. When the halftime buzzer sounded, the Falcons were on top, 34-32.

Again in the second half, the Falcons were able to sneak ahead by ten points, but again the dangerous jump shot of co-captain Mike Walsh closed the gap.

With only 6:03 remaining in the game, and the Falcons leading 64-60, Coach Harold Anderson gave the stellar combination of Darrow and Jim McDonald a much needed rest.

The Titans took advantage of the hole in the Falcon defense and cut the Falcon lead to two points. With 4:27 remaining, Darrow and McDonald again entered the lineup.

With the loss of their "big man", Don Haase with 2:47 left in the game, the Titans switched into a full court press. The press met with minor success, and with 1:38, Walsh tied the score at 70-70 on a foul shot.

With 52 seconds, Darrow sank two charity tosses to put the Falcons ahead, 72-70. Ray Albee, of the Titans, hit a field goal with 45 seconds, and was fouled by Chuck McCampbell. Albee missed the foul shot, and the score stood 72-72.

With one second remaining, Troy, obviously overcome by the close action, called time out. Coach Bob Calihan of the Titans went wild. The technical which was called, was thought by many to be on Calihan. Instead it was for excessive time outs.

Darrow made the game winning foul shot, and for the second time in two years, the Falcons nipped the Titans by one point.

In the dressing room after the game, the Titan coach said the boy did not call time out.

On the radio Dale Herbert, Falcon assistant coach, was heard to say, "He (Troy) is one boy that's going to lose his grant-in-aid when he gets back to Detroit."

FALCON FORWARD, BENNY WILLIAMS goes in for a lay-up as Titan center Don Haase attempts to block it. Moving in for a possible rebound are Falcons, Frank Wade and Dick Abele, and Detroit's Joe Davis.

McCampbell Offers Team Fine Defensive, Rebounding Strength

Aggressive, determined, good rebounder and fighter, all of these terms help to describe one of Bowling Green's fine center-forwards Charles "Buddy" McCampbell.

Buddy has to be called both a center and forward since he will usually cover the oppositions center on defense, but plays forward on offense. He sometimes moves into the center slot on offense also.

Chuck stands 6'2" and tips the scales at an even 200 pounds. He is 20 years old, a junior and hails from Columbus, Ohio where he played for Columbus Central.

While playing basketball for Central he won himself all-city honors and was also mentioned for all-state honors.

Besides playing basketball Buddy was on Central's football and track teams. Upon his graduation from Central he won scholar-athletic award which was made available by the Agonis Club.

Last year Buddy was the recipient of the teams most valuable player award. During the '56-'57 season he had a rebound average of 6.6 per game and averaged 6.5 points per contest. During the latter part of the season when he earned himself a starting assignment Buddy was averaging 10 rebounds per game. His high point output came against Marshall when he hit for 15.

Buddy is a good student and wants to be a social worker when he graduates. He is very active in campus life. He has served as president of Alpha Kappa Omega Fraternity, was a member of Interfraternity Council, and was recently elected to the IFC's Judicial Board.

IM Program Nears Year's Mid-Point

An extensive intramural program is rapidly approaching the halfway mark with only seven sports remaining on the independent and fraternity team sports calendar, and eight on the all-campus calendar.

The sports that are still to be run off on the independent and fraternity agenda are: tandem swim relays, water polo, track relays, volleyball, softball, track, and the outdoor tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, the national honorary athletic fraternity.

The all-campus sports remaining are foul shooting, table tennis with both single and doubles, handball, paddleball, golf driving, archery, and horseshoes.

Anyone interested, may contact the intramural office for additional information concerning these sports.

BG Faces Kent Tonight

Kent State's Golden Flash-es are having an open house for the Falcons tonight, but most of the guests will have to fork over good money to witness another exhibition of Coach Bill Bertka's "deep freeze."

Bertka, who arrived at Kent this year after coaching junior college basketball in California, is fond of stalling when his opponents crowd around his 6-8 center Dale Hyatt or the 6-5 substitute, Larry Edmunds.

Earlier this season Bertka and Co. used said tactics against Toledo to win, 26-18. Last Saturday night Kent couldn't hit beams from the outside or the inside and succumbed to Miami, 56-41.

So far this season Kent has won six out of 12. The Flashes were strengthened after Christmas when Edmunds, a regular starter last year, returned from a six month tour with the Army.

When Bertka transferred from Hancock Junior College, he brought with him two boys now playing regularly for Kent. Six foot guard Bob Thomas likes to take jump shots from the key. Hyatt, the other transfer, can score and rebound against shorter men, but pivot men his own size usually take the show away from him.

The Flashes average about 6'3" across the boards. If the Falcons sink back on the Kent pivot, the erratic Kent shooters can almost be counted on to slow down the pace of the game with their freeze.

Bowling Green has appeared sluggish of late. The Kent game will be the last before a ten day layoff. The starting lineup still includes Darrow, McDonald, Abele, McCampbell, and Wade, but Benny Williams is making a strong bid to break into the first five.

Fourth Win Posted As Grapplers Beat Oilers

Bowling Green's wrestling team walloped a highly regarded Findlay aggregation in the Oil City, Friday by a 29-8 score. This was the Falcons fourth victory in five contests. BG's lone defeat came at the hands of Toledo University. Bob Dake, one of the main stays of the squad, missed the Toledo match, and many viewers felt that BG could have won this match with the aid of Dake.

Coach Bruce Bellard had nothing but praise for his entire wrestling crew Friday, saying, "I was very pleased with the work of all my wrestlers, including the two men who lost." Coach Bellard also expressed the opinion that Findlay definitely was handicapped by an injury to one of their finest wrestlers in the 157 pound division, thus giving BG a forfeit decision.

This year's wrestling team is regarded by many as one of the finest teams in the history of Bowling Green.

SACRIFICING WIVES WERE rewarded Saturday night at the mock graduation banquet for married students. The first wife to receive the PhT (Pushed Husband Through) degree was June Anderson. Presenting the diploma is Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student activities.

Graduates' Wives Get Coveted PhT Degree

Fifty-seven wives of graduates of the class of '58 became charter members of the degree PhT at a mock graduation banquet held last Saturday evening at Williams Dining Hall.

Participants to the first event of its kind to ever take place on this University's campus called the banquet a great success.

The evening got underway at 7 p.m. with the serving of the banquet dinner. At its conclusion, Ray Gillespie, chairman of the event, introduced Dr. Melvin Hyman, director of the Speech Clinic, as the first speaker. He in turn introduced Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student activities, who paid tribute to the wives of the married students of the campus.

Dr. Smith reminisced as to the change in the status of the married students over the past few years. He stated that there were four factors involved in the success of every man which every wife must provide. They were: motivation, understanding, belief, and loyalty. He commended the wives for all that they were doing to aid their husbands in a quest for education.

At the conclusion of his speech, Dr. Smith said, "By the authority vested in me by the male students here present, I confer upon you the degree of PhT."

The degree was worded in this manner: "To all persons to whom these presents shall come, greetings. Be it known that—having completed the course is hereby admitted to the degree of PhT (Pushed Husband Through) with all the honors, rights, and privileges pertaining thereto. In testimony for loss of husband for homework, class attendance, etc., this diploma is conferred at Bowling Green this 25th day of January in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty eight." NEWS Photos Capture Tense Action In Falcon Victory Over Detroit

THE OPENING JUMP sees Bowling Green's Dick Abele outreach Don Hasse of Detroit. Ron Troy (23) of Detroit and Buddy McCampbell (51) are blocked out of the play by the referee.

VICTORY! JIM DARROW'S free throw emerges from the net for the one point margin which the Falcons needed to down Detroit, 73-72. Darrow swished a cool thirty against the Titans, but it was the last one which broke Detroit's back.

THE DANDY SPECIAL is caught by the camera. Darrow's jump shot is airborne while the gaping players position themselves under the basket for a rebound that never came.

FROM THE FOUL line again, Darrow rises on his tiptoes and softly pushes a shot towards the hoop while spectators and players follow the arc of the ball.

"LET'S GO, TEAM!" Six Bowling Green cheerleaders hang in mid-air at the end of a cheer just before the start of the second half. In the right, the Falcons huddle for final instructions from Coach Anderson.

SURROUNDED BY DETROIT players, Frank Wade of Bowling Green pulls down a rebound and turns to look for an escape route.

Modernized Forces Is Military Outlook For U.S., UN, ROK

America's top commander in Korea declared today that if the Reds launching a new attack, United Nations forces probably "would not again confine hostilities to the Korean Peninsula."

Gen. George H. Decker, leader of U.N. forces guarding the little Republic, cautioned that "Communist aggression elsewhere in the Far East could trigger a new war in Korea."

But the four-star army commander emphasized, that "resumption of hostilities in Korea during 1958 is not indicated." Highlights of the interview follow:

Question: What is the military outlook in Korea?

Answer: "The military outlook... will include further modernization of U.S., U.N. and ROK forces... although resumption of hostilities in Korea during 1958 is not now indicated it could be triggered by Communist aggression elsewhere in the Far East."

Q: Do you look ahead with optimism?

A: "The troops now manning the armistice line are the finest I've seen. The Republic of Korea army has made great strides during the past year and it is now one of the world's outstanding fighting organizations... The ability of all elements of the United Nations command together with the ROK forces to perform the mission here lead me to look forward to 1958 with optimism."

Q: What will be your chief problems this year?

A: "The chief problems will probably be those resulting from financial retrenchment. Any reduction in... funds for Korea will inevitably have an impact on our plans and operations. However, most of these effects have been anticipated, and appropriate steps are being taken to insure a constantly improved military posture for the forces protecting the integrity of free Korea."

Q: On what will allied deterrent power be based?

A: "... Upon both modern weapons and combat readiness of Korean, U.S. and U.N. troops. Introduction of modern weapons will compensate, at least in part, for the numerical superiority of the Communist Chinese."

Council On Student Affairs Studies Major Campus Problems

The Council on Student Affairs is one of the strongest, most effective groups of its kind on campus, said Dr. Elden T. Smith, dean of student affairs and chairman of the council. During the five years since its creation, this council has dealt fairly and soundly with many University-wide problems, he said, making top-level decisions and recommendations that will effect student life at the University for many years.

ARTICLE V, Section 2 of the Charter of the University Faculty, enacted in 1953, gives the following membership to the council: the dean of student affairs, who serves as the chairman; three teaching faculty members; three administration members; and seven student members. Also, council members have been asked to select one or more outstanding students, in order to give students a majority vote. These "extra" members are often independents or off-campus students giving a broader viewpoint to discussions. Pres. Ralph W. McDonald is an ex officio member.

The CHARTER states, "The function of this council shall be to study, discuss, and recommend policies concerning the program of student affairs." Recommendations are made to the Pres. of the University. Complete minutes of every meeting are filed with the Faculty Secretary's office. These meetings are held once a week during the school year, or as often as necessary. They average one hour and 30 minutes long, taking place in the Administration Bldg., council room.

Current membership includes three faculty members, elected by the faculty of each college to represent the faculty as a whole. They are: Dr. Samuel M. Cooper, professor of health and physical education, representing the College of Education; Dr. Galen Stutman, chairman of the department of business education, representing the College of Business Administration; and Warren S. Allen, associate professor of music, who represents the College of Liberal Arts.

Three other members, appointed by President McDonald, are: Wallace W. Taylor Jr., dean of men; Mrs. Florence Currier, dean of women; and Miss Orin McCarley, the council's secretary.

Student members, who are automatically members of the council when they are elected to various leadership positions in other campus organizations, are: June Fritsch, president of the Association of Women Students; Charlotte Bliesch, president of Panhellenic Council; George Lynch, vice-president of the Interfraternity Council; Edward Ward, president of Omicron Delta Kappa; Nancy Curtis, president of Cap and Gown; Douglas Eggleston, president of the Senior Class; and Jeffrey Osoff, editor-in-chief of the B-G NEWS. Eggleston, who holds two of the above offices, would have been twice eligible to hold a seat on the council; therefore, Lynch was selected to represent IFC. Linda Gee was chosen by council members to be this year's "extra vote." She is the only Junior member.

Dr. Smith offered the following sampling of the scope and importance of council recommendations:

Before the 1947-48 school year, the University had little real trouble involving students owning or using automobiles in Bowling Green. In that year, however, there were several accidents and other unpleasant incidents which led Pres. Frank J. Prout to ban this privilege, except for those who were natives of BG, commuted, or worked at a distance from town. In 1952, President McDonald started a one-year study of the possibility of restoring automobile use. Following the council's recommendations, car privileges were restored, gradually, starting with juniors and seniors. This plan worked well enough that in 1954 all students were once again permitted to use cars here.

An extensive study was made of the whole activity fee structure. The council examined the subsidies granted by the University to debating teams, the University Theatre, the KEY, the B-G NEWS, etc. and appropriations were adjusted on the basis of getting full value for the University and for the student.

Two years ago, the overall social program received an airing, with the council making eight or nine suggestions to improve various individual features. As a result of council study, $2.50 from the first room deposit fee is now placed into a social fund for each dormitory, to be used for helping a student in University housing feel he is living in as "home-like" an atmosphere as possible.

Last year brought a question about seating at the football games. Members of CSA believed sports fans would be more comfortable and exhibit more school spirit if all the students could be seated on one side of the playing field, rather than scattering out on both sides, and this season the plan was tried.

Last year the council reviewed voluntary student clubs and other campus groups. This was possibly the council's biggest and toughest problem, said Dr. Smith. He mentioned that some groups, such as departmental honor societies, run along for years with two or three members and a microscopic list of activities. The council members thought they might be able to boost some of these groups, and asked Dr. Robert M. Guion, assistant professor of psychology, to lend a hand. Dr. Guion in turn recruited a team of students, who helped interview "key communicators"—officers and leaders of the various student organizations. One feature coming out of all this was the Calendar of Events, listing the time and place of meetings, picnics, dances, plays, movies, etc.

Dr. Smith mentioned that the council is now working to implement its most recent recommendation—attempts to establish better communication channels between students, faculty members, and the administration.

Sticklers!

TAXI DRIVING, at best, is a checkered career. Some days, nothing seems to click—including the meter! Traffic crawls, motor stalls, horns bleat, bumpers meet. What a moment to reach for a Lucky—and discover (horrors!) you're fresh out. That's when the most genial driver turns into a Crabby Cabby. And why not? He's missing the best taste going... a cigarette that's light as they come. Luckies are all light tobacco—good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em yourself. And step on it!

DON'T JUST STAND THERE...

STICKLE!
MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.
